In Memoriam

MR. CLAYTON F. FOSSETT

a member of the Gould Academy faculty for thirty-four years.

Dedication

We, the class of 1960, are honored to dedicate the seventy-fourth edition of our yearbook, the ACADEMY HERALD, to Mr. Gayle Foster, who, during his eighteen years at Gould, has faithfully been a dynamic and enthusiastic supporter of the Camera Club and who has given generously of his skill, time and effort to enable scores of Gould students to understand and appreciate the many science courses that he teaches.

Since Mr. Foster is retiring this June, we would like him to know that we are particularly grateful for all that he has done for us, and in complete sincerity we join in wishing him much happiness in his years away from Gould.

Numerous other awards were given, including Camera Club pins, Blue and Gold certificates, music awards, French and Latin awards, physical fitness award, track and baseball awards, and Student Council awards.

This assembly was ended by the senior class singing their class ode.

On Saturday, June 6, at 12:30 P.M., the Alumni Banquet was held on the William Bingham Gymnasium Mall. The speaker of the day was Professor Jackman from Bates College. The annual Alumni-Varsity baseball game, which was scheduled to follow after the banquet was canceled because of rain.

Music from Gordon Howe's Orchestra signified that the long-awaited Commencement Ball had begun. This ended a perfect day.

Baccalaureate Exercises were held Sunday, June 7, at 11:00 A.M. Dr. Carl E. Weist, retired pastor and author from Mt. Vernon, New York, delivered the sermon.

Sunday afternoon at 2:00 P.M. the Commencement Program began on the William Bingham Gymnasium Mall as the Class of '59 marched in to "Pomp and Circumstance."

With the Juniors

The Class of '61 started off the year with 80 members. Early in the year the junior class officers were elected:

President	Arthur Lincoln
Vice-President	Sally Burns
Secretary	Louise Lincoln
Treasurer	Richard York

Have you ever been called upon to deliver a speech? Probably not, but wouldn't it be interesting to know just what subject each member of the junior class would speak upon if he were called upon to do so in some morning assembly. We think so; consequently, the following are names of the juniors and the titles of their impromptu speeches.

SANDRA ALLEN

Front row, (left to right) : Melanie Bernier, Judy Myers, Jacqueline Saunders, Betsy Chapman, Verna Phillbrook, Betty Phipps, Sue Kneeland, Dale Lapham, Walter Grover, Julia Brown, Charlotte Auger, Nancy Morin, Ileen Powers, Rita Morin, Freda Bennett. Second row: Beverly Bryant, Darlene Morrill, Jeannie Hamlin, Sharon Benson, Sharon Taylor, Bertha Kimball, Florence Westleigh, Doris Nicolaisen, Barbara Rumsey, Marcia Langley, Mary Ann Chase, Nancy Brown, Charlene Rice, Betty Tyler, Gloria Swan, Gloria Harrington. Third row: Tim Stevens, Francis Buckman, Caroline Poland, Sheila Roberts, Diana Douglass, Annette Sterling, Kathy Towne, Norma Kimball, Mary Eaton, Jane Allen, Joan Boardway, Eleanor Lougee, Sandra White, Trafton Foster, Harold Carver. Fourth row: Doug Vail, Arthur Pingree, Dale Kimball, Dan Grover, Don Batchelder, Tom Sweetser, Bill Jordan, Duane Gorden, Al Grover, Harry Kimball, Steve Anderson, David Miller, Charles Haines, Delmer McMillin. Fifth row: George Eypper, Tom Chadbourne, Fred Clough, Dave Nadworny, Steve McLain, Bryon McCubrey, Steve Dock, Clifton Jackson, Don Parker, David Amrein, Phil Coolidge.

With the Freshmen

The freshman class consists of 72
Of whom we have chosen four,
Listed as the following because we knew
They'd get the highest voting score.

Dale Lapham is president of the class.
Vice president is Julia Brown, a pretty lass.
Our secretary is Suzanne Kneeland, a girl we all know,
And Walter Grover is treasurer to keep our dough.

A freshman of every kind —
If you look, you will find:

JANE ALLEN:
At the tryouts,
An actress without doubts—

DAVID AMREIN:
On the ski slopes to take the test,
But breaking skis is not the best—

STEPHEN ANDERSON:
Working up a prank or joke,
By this he proves he is no poke—

CHARLOTTE AUGER:
Munching on sweets
Her special treats—

DONALD BATCHELDER:
The young Newry man
Who may have a long life span—

FREDA BENNETT:
Gazing at boys in study hall,
Since the first day last fall—

SHARON BENSON:
And here's the one
Who's bound to have a lot of fun—

MELANIE BERNIER:

Active in sports and studious, too,
But how to get home worries her blue—

JOAN BOARDWAY:

With Mary Ann, her chum,
You never see her glum—

JULIA BROWN:

Blowing cheerfully on the saxophone
Bringing out a mellow tone—

NANCY BROWN:

Working in Brown's Variety Store
Waiting busily on kids galore—

BEVERLY BRYANT:

Writing a poem, or singing a song,
Never staying around very long—

FRANCIS BUCKMAN:

To his pals he may be plucky,
But to us, he's known as "Bucky"—

HAROLD CARVER:

Madly jumping to get a basket
Shorty! Get a hassock!

THOMAS CHADBOURNE:

At giving parties he's a great host,
They always turn out to be the most—

BETSY CHAPMAN:

Short, sweet, and jolly,
Never known as Nellie, by golly!

MARY ANN CHASE:

With her eyes glued to a book,
Trying to hide her latest look—

FREDERICK CLOUGH:

Hoping for good grades
By "fixing" the shades—

PHILLIP COOLIDGE:

Riding in that souped-up car,
Hoping to journey far—

STEPHEN DOCK:

Slaving to get his Latin completed,
Then at the piano he'll be seated—

DIANA DOUGLASS:

Talking about the fun she had last fall,
Before she moved in study hall—

MARY EATON:

Chief advisor on all girls' clothes,
Ask Mary; she knows!

GEORGE EYPPER:

Debating—that's his field;
Keep it up, don't yield—

TRAFTON FOSTER:

Buried deep in history books,
At planes he also looks—

DUANE GORDON:

Catch that gal,
Don't let her go to your best pal!

ALBERT GROVER:

Parties, dances, games and affairs,
This sociable guy is always there—

DANIEL GROVER:

Running and racing in the street,
Hoping to place at the cross country meet—

WALTER GROVER:

Waiting patiently by the side of the road,
For someone to help tote his heavy load—

CHARLES HAINES:

Fooling around with pals of his,
But, oh, so quiet he always is—

JEAN HAMLIN:

The newest freshman here,
She came a little late this year—

GLORIA HARRINGTON:

Whether a smile or frown on her face,
Her nickname "Buddy" has its place—

RAYMOND HARRINGTON:

Sending people far
By playing his guitar—

CLIFTON JACKSON:

On the road to the new ski tow,
For skiing he'll never have far to go—

WILLIAM JORDAN:

Walking with his one and only,
Never found looking lonely—

BERTHA KIMBALL:

Carrying her pocket book everywhere,
Flirting without a care—

DALE KIMBALL:

Thinking up a new invention,
Tinkering with gadgets that cause attention—

HARRY KIMBALL:

Spending his time gazing at girls,
Putting them all into whirls—

NORMA KIMBALL:

She has a smile for everyone;
Wherever she is, there's bound to be fun—

SUZANNE KNEELAND:

A happy smile and a warm glow,
Keep this gal in the know—

MARSHA LANGLEY:

Collecting stuffed toys
Or talking about boys—

DALE LAPHAM:

He's started opening the gates
Toward becoming President of the United States—

ELEANOR LOUGEE:

Playing basketball of any form,
But what a noise when she's in the dorm!

BYRON MCCUBREY:

With a smile on his face,
Never will a frown take its place—

STEPHEN McLAINE:

Catching a ride to Gilead
To his home he'll be lead—

DELMA MCMILLIN:

Tall and dark? Well, not quite,
A few more years and he'll get his height—

DAVID MILLER:

Sailing is his ambition,
While most boys go fishin'—

RITA MORIN:

Doing cartwheels with great ease,
Or any act that's sure to please—

NANCY MORIN:

Debating about with whom to go out—

DARLENE MORRILL:

Twirls her baton in the band,
Which takes a quick sleight of hand—

JUDITH MYERS:

Rushing there and here
Talking to every ear—

DAVID NADWORNÝ:

Wishing for snow
For skiing he wants to go—

DORIS NICOLAISEN:

Dreading the shots which come a surprise,
Hoping the needle won't be of great size—

DONALD PARKER:

Walking along at a very slow pace,
And always carrying that heavy stuffed case—

VERNA PHILBROOK:

Very quiet—but smart,
She'll win someone's heart—

MARION PHIPPS:

Singing with glee,
She sounds so free—

ARTHUR PINGREE:

With freckles and bright red hair,
You can distinguish him anywhere—

CAROLINE POLAND:

Talking of Albert, who's her man,
She'll get him for keeps if she can—

ILEEN POWERS:

Behind a desk
Studying her best—

CHARLENE RICE:

By the radio she does sit,
Waiting for a Johnny Cash hit—

SHEILA ROBERTS:

Telling of experiences she's had
That might be humorous or sad—

BARBARA RUMSEY:

Winning at sports
Great on tennis courts—

JACQUELINE SAUNDERS:

Joyfully cheering at every game
Hoping Gould will climb to fame—

ANNETTE STERLING:

Walking uptown every noon,
Wondering what will happen soon—

TIMOTHY STEVENS:

Madly rushing from class to class,
But always speaks to many a lass—

GLORIA SWAN:

Laughing with Charlene, her friend,
She'll see that this friendship will never end—

THOMAS SWEETSER:

Tom, Tom the baker's son,
At Harvey's Restaurant having fun—

SHARON TAYLOR:

In the library every day
She never lacks words to say—

KATHLEEN TOWNE:

She is on the honor roll,
And majorettes with heart and soul—

ELIZABETH TYLER:

In any clothes she looks cute,
From old slacks to a brand new suit—

FLORENCE WESTLEIGH:

Chewing gum and telling jokes
At the drug store—sipping cokes—

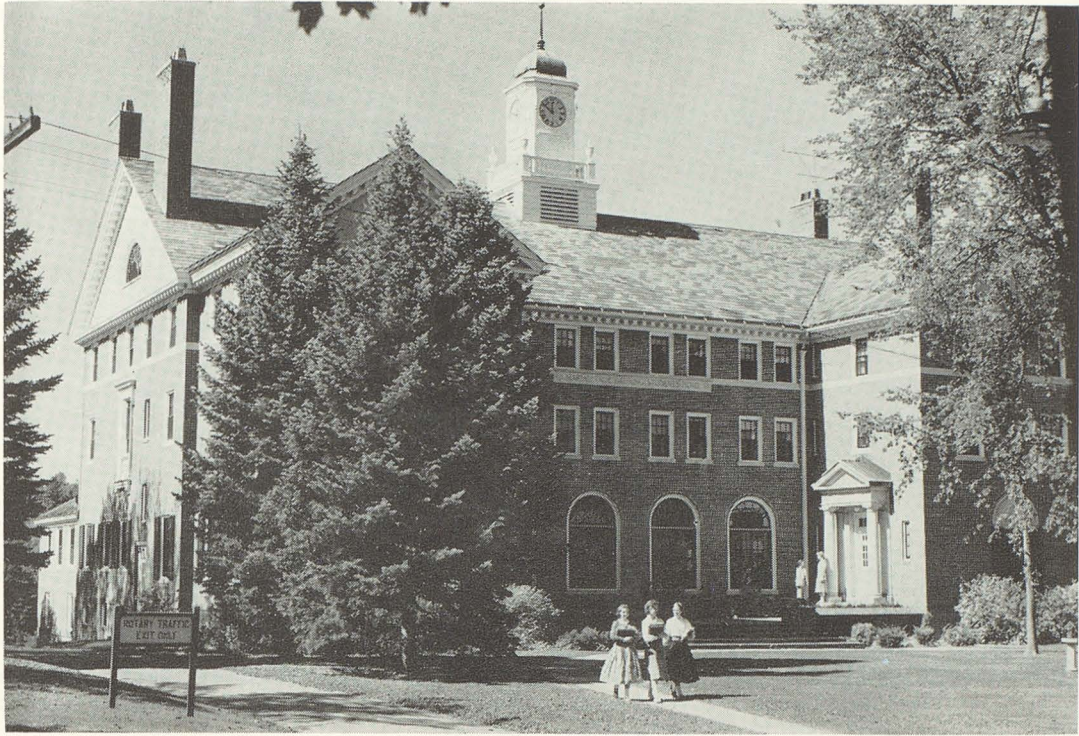

SANDRA WHITE:

Sandra really loves to ski
As she snowplows past the tree—

Gehring Hall

Sunday night after supper is a busy time for the girls of Gehring Hall. The excitement of the weekend is but a wonderful memory, and the advent of Monday morning's classes brings mingled groans, sighs and anticipations. During the half-hour period between supper and study hours, you are apt to find the girls engaged in a variety of activities.

Let's make a tour of the dorm to see how the girls are occupying themselves.

As we come up the stairs from the lobby to the second floor, the first room we encounter is that of Pat Hill and Mary Ann Royal. Pat diligently reads her next book for an English report as Mary Ann blends her voice with that of her favorite, Pat Boone.

In the next room, Jane Ashcraft is complaining loudly about the absence of mail in her box as Debbie Hammond vainly tries to get Monday's homework done.

As we turn down the Alley, home of six privileged senior girls, we see Janet Hill chasing Janet Smith and Beth Brown, who have stolen her favorite stuffed animal again.

Deede McCann and Sue Alexander are sitting patiently on the bed, trying to get ahead of the game by doing next week's chemistry, as the strains of one of Sue Martin's favorite albums drift out of the corner room that Sue and Sue Alexander call home.

Coming back into the main hall, the first room we see is the front corner room of Betsy Hackland and Sally Hancock. Betsy is seated crosslegged on the bed, peeling an orange and doing her trigonometry, trying to get the answers to check with those in the book as her roommate reaches for another novel.

From across the hall we hear strange sounds. Caroline Seavey is trying to learn how to type as Sally Bourque floats dreamily around the room to the mellow music of Johnny Mathis.

Next door, Freda Gammon, Betty King, and Judy Payson are laughing hysterically as Betsy Webster does one of her famous imitations of the Kingston Trio.

In the last front room, we find another Johnny Mathis listener, Sandy Cole, who is hearing his smooth tones to the cacophonous accompaniment of Louise Kennedy's glockenspiel.

Across the hall we see Shirley Hendrick writing one of her endless letters as Pam Perkins lies on the bed, reviewing the weekend's activities.

Two creative artists are at work. Carol Burgess is painting diligently on one of her beautiful posters as her roommate Helen Miller starts to work on another of her leather pieces.

Carol Bilderback and Sandra Allen are talking about Carol's recent trip to Cuba and half-heartedly trying to find their books for study hours.

In the corner room, we find Sally Burns and Hilda Andrews wading through their cyclone-struck room. You would never believe that they passed a thorough room inspection yesterday!

As we start up the back stairs we peek into the room of Sue Hutchison and Carol Annett to find Sue under the hair dryer and Carol hidden in the closet, looking for some lost item.

Our first stop on the third floor is Sophomore Alley, home of four sophomores.

In the first room we find Jane Carver looking wistfully out of the window at the skating rink, wishing that it was still a hockey field.

Peggy Davis is busy writing letters in the next room to the strains of West Side Story, pouring out of Betty Vinton's room, where Betty sits entranced by the music.

Nearby, Martha MacQuinn is polishing her shoes and pondering the problem of what to wear on Monday.

On the main corridor, the first room is that of Robin Longley and Claire Marx. Robin and Sandra Shipp are lying on the floor reading a fashion magazine and passing the information on to Claire.

The next room is vacant, for Sandra's roommate Ann Ordway is downstairs in the recreation room, waxing her skis.

In the next room, Ann Tribou is explaining the problems and pleasures of dorm life to her new roommate, Sandra White.

From the next room, we hear mingled squeals and yells as Madge Ward, Marsha Langley, Debbie Appleton, and Betty Phipps engage in a water fight.

Next door Margie Dallinger is complaining loudly about waiting on in the morning as her roommate Marcia Savage complacently knits away.

In the next room Kathy Towne is busy practicing one of her baton routines to Barbara Rumsey's accompaniment on the guitar.

Mary Eaton is setting Verna Philbrook's hair as Verna loudly complains that she doesn't want her hair touched.

In the corner room, Joan Boardway, Jane Allen and Mary Ann Chase are industriously doing gym exercises with many thumps and bangs to the furniture and floor.

Doris Nicolaisen is sitting on the windowsill in the hall and wishing that it was Monday so that she could watch American Bandstand.

In the corner front room, Eleanor Lougee is explaining the wonderful advantages of basketball to her reluctant roommate, Beverly Bryant.

Next door, Carol Wilson is teasing Gloria Williams, who threatens to resort to drastic measures soon.

As we end our tour of Gehring Hall, we pause to speak to Mrs. Goggin, our patient, understanding housemother. Her wise guiding hand influences for the better the lives of all of us in the dorm.

Holden Hall and Farnsworth House

Into the magic fish bowl we plunge to see which of the Holden Hall intelligentsia we can find. In goes my hand and out comes fog, New York tourists, and Rockefeller. It's Somesville and Southwest Harbor! Lee Wilbur is citing for Jay Langley a tale (small pun: tail) of the big deer that he missed in October. Islander John Somes interjects quick bits of information. Incidentally, John Somes of Somesville works at the Somes Hotel. If you are thinking of visiting him, forgetting the key word could reap a completely fruitless trip!

The mists descends into the bowl and out merges Jon Latti and Henry Hinman. Henry is involved in a story of his struggles against the North Anson Police Department while the more contemplative Jon applies himself wholeheartedly to his American history map.

Woosh, and they're gone! Now we see posters of Barre, Kingfield, and North Conway. A travel bureau? No, it's just the abode of Gould's two future Olympic skiers, Sam Appleton and Pete Swallow. Pete is giving a demonstration to Tommy Gilbert, who has just stopped by for the last issue of SKI, while Sam and basketball hero Billy ("Fabian") Kinsman search the Information Please for comparative fatality statistics of skiers and basketball players.

The seacoast again appears as from the fog of Boothbay Harbor comes the Vala. It is only secondary, however—a picture over which David Miller is fondly reminiscing. We have only a few moments with her skipper for the mist billows in, and the Vala disappears.

From the next grab comes David's neighbor, Byron McCubrey, who is looking at slides with a longing contemplation of warm Florida beaches. There's one of his home on Sebago Lake! He's not unhappy that it's winter when he remembers cleaning the over-night cabins!

Out of the rooms glimmering with Sports Illustrated pictures, we pull Dick Mayo, Russ Spooner, and Alan Blunt all tied up in a conversational knot. The subject: Is Maine, Rhode Island, or New York the best state? Russ says that Providence has the biggest Sunday papers; Dick boasts of Bath's being the parent city of ships; and Al — well, Huntington, New York, just has the most and the best of everything!

I see a rolling ball, and bang! We're in the pool room. Harry Brown has really licked Tim Stevens in this game. What's this? Tim made a fabulous last shot and won! Well, Harry, you can't win them all!

What's happened! Why the total blackness! Hey, don't turn on the lights! It's the Whitehouse boys developing their Christmas vacation pictures of St. Petersburg! Fred can hardly wait to see the pictures of the cute girl he met. Glen pretends he's only interested from a very technical point of view, but we question it. Why the enlargement?

On our darkroom exodus, the fog clears and we see senior Dave Marsh sitting in the smoking lounge, reading his economics. A pipe would add dignity, but he chooses Newport! Oh well, all seniors are dignified, anyway!

Richard Graves is lost in the Kingston Trio records he's playing on his new "stereo". His roommate, John Kelley, is holding forth for Dick's customized '32 Ford pick-up while in an ardent debate with Pete Mendell, who seems to be defending the '57 Chrysler. Dick doesn't seem too active in the contest, but his interest brightens when Norridgewock speedster Arthur Swift enters (even the name is indicative). Art announces that he has a new "Sounds of Serburg" record, and zipping down the hall they go. Pete, however, retires to his own room offering competition: a P.A. system, bongo drums, and a radio.

Steve Watson we find in Pete Karpovich's room engaged in a bull session. Some daring person has looted Gehring Hall's sign-out book of a check list. The Big Two are in a huddle! What secrets! What discoveries!

Snow, ski hats, heroic underclassmen again appear as Dave Amrein and Dick Wyman prepare for their outing at the Sunday River Skiway. Dick has a white patch over his eye from which Dave has derived the title—"The Portland Pirate". Dave Reilly, Concord, Massachusetts' six footer and Lady Winter's Barker Mountain companion enters. Strangely enough, little more is said about the inferior skiing ability of "city pirates".

We leave the Sunday River riders, and we think we're in Mexico for we see a pinata hanging from the ceiling, or perhaps in Alaska for there are fine fur pelts on the wall. A third look reveals that it's just Jim Weston's room. Jim is trying to convince Jay Langley that one of his furs is worth the Dee-Jay jacket Jay is wearing from his father's Portsmouth emporium. "But that fine skin is from Juneau — My father's jackets are all imported!" Trade unions are perhaps the answer!

Reality is restored as we see Ralph Merriam and Gary Hill listening to "Bert and I" a final time before they go to "wait-on". The telephone rings, and it is not Avon, but Mrs. Scott, calling. As our eyes follow them out, we catch a glimpse of Bob Allen, Gould Academy's mailman. Bob has a bag full of Time magazines, Cummings Laundry bills, and letters for the lucky. He's about the best mailman we know!

We next invade Paul Collins' room. Paul's Sports Illustrated has arrived and neighbor Joe Frothingham and schoolmate Nort Fowler are enjoying it and the Kingston Trio record much more than Paul is. Paul is busily typing letters to cosmopolitan Boston, and the Bethel snow is far away!

"22" appears through the mist. Within we see David Hawkes, David Ayers, and Ira Hubbard all studying diligently for next week's exams. The two Daves are enraptured in circles, triangles, and little parallelograms, while more literary-minded Ira Hubbard is conjugating irregular French verbs. We tip-toe out, and they haven't even noticed us!

The two Kennebunkport juniors join classmate Paul Calef in a triangular conversation of world affairs and the record of the Bruins. Dave Lombard gives Alex Foster the Time magazine annual test, Alex shows Paul a favorite hockey shot, and Paul discusses the Fryeburg games with Dave. Confusion?

Downstairs Bill Call is showing Coach Kailey his new ski boots. Dave Nadworny and Steve Groves, both from the kitchen where they have been brewing coffee, come and attest to the boots' quality. They are both skiers of future fame so their recommendation is the last word (well — almost the last word!)

Before leaving Holden Hall we shall take another look in the pool room. We see Steve Fairbanks and Brian Scothorne playing a peaceful game of checkers, peaceful save for the radio Brian has tuned to WRUM. May the better man win!

As we prepare to leave, we hear stimulating music coming from the same direction from which the skiers' coffee aroma drifts. Investigation reveals John Hill busily practicing "Chop-sticks". No doubt he's getting the rhythm for his next dancing appearance on the William Bingham stage.

We leave the corridors of Holden Hall, descend over a knoll, and find ourselves in a winter cave of seven seniors. I speak now of Farnsworth.

We first meet Farnsworth jester and humorist, George Elliot, who has just taken his post-gym shower, and he's off to visit the Spa before play rehearsal.

Here comes Clarkson Edwards and John Phinney. Whatever project they may have planned for the afternoon, we wager, will not interfere with Clarkson's 4:00 Gehring Hall appointment. They're off for metropolitan Bethel, signed out with a Phinney Lumber Company pencil.

The room at the very end of Farnsworth was vacated during the football season, but alas it is no more. Ben White has Love in the Afternoon avidly playing, and his roommate, East Boothbay's John Todd, is diligently typing college applications to every admissions office from Eastport to Block Island, to use a cliché, and one with which John is familiar.

Finally we look in on Stan Clark. Stan has forsaken afternoon skiing for an afternoon with the Saturday Evening Posts Mrs. Owen has donated. Seeing a picture of Boston, Stan immediately offers up a silent prayer for his acceptance at Wentworth. Appleton and Bethel are but children on the knee of Grandfather Boston.

Before we put our magic globe away for the year, we peer over the rim for one final look. Oh see! A whole group of careworn people who live with skis and rock 'n' roll nine months a year—Mr. and Mrs. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Owen, and Mr. Auger, all of whom are resident faculty members in the dormitories. The Holden and Farnsworth boys extend their hearty thanks to all of them for the help and advice they have so cheerfully given throughout the year!

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council

The Student Council is a group of students representing each of the four classes which serves as a means of contact between the headmaster and the student body. The representatives are first selected by a designated committee and then elected by popular vote. With the aid of Mr. Brewster, faculty advisor, the representatives try to solve the various problems which arise in the school.

The Student Council works to promote school spirit, loyalty, and good citizenship. It also sponsors such things as fund-raising for charities, furnishing programs for morning assemblies, choosing the cheerleaders and majorettes, and selling tickets at athletic events. Two important events which the Student Council sponsors are the Christmas Formal and Parents' Day. Before any amount of the Student Activity Fee can be appropriated for non-budget sums, the Council's approval is necessary.

The officers elected last fall for the school year of 1959-1960 are as follows: President, John Todd; Vice President, Sue Martin; Secretary, Sue Alexander, and Treasurer, Clarkson Edwards.

Every year a member is selected to represent the Student Council on the Athletic Council. This year John Todd was chosen as representative.

The Blue and Gold

In September, 1959, the Blue and Gold commenced its eighteenth year of publication under the superb direction of Mr. David Thompson. The Blue and Gold has a wide circulation here on campus as well as among thirty-one Gould alumni; it has also found its way to thirty-five other high schools in the United States.

Under the capable leadership of the co-editors, Donald Christie and Sally Hancock, the Blue and Gold has continued to thrive most successfully with minute changes from previous years. A feature column entitled "Around Campus" has been added with a touch of humor and behind-the-scene observations of campus life and activities. This column has been a favorite among Blue and Gold recipients.

Our sincere thanks is extended to all of those who have so willingly devoted their time and efforts to the great success of this publication. We thank Mr. Gayle Foster and the Camera Club for their excellent photographic work and Mr. Carl Brown, our faithful printer. Many thanks also go to our able faculty advisor, Mr. David Thompson, for his constant patience and worthy advice.

Also under the guidance of Mr. David Thompson, a new student literary magazine, The Flame, has been founded at Gould this year. Those who possess an exceptional talent for creative writing, the budding journalists and those who write just for fun, will, of course, contribute to this worthy enterprise. Created to promote an interest in essays, short stories, and poetry within the student body, the magazine will be available several times throughout the ensuing years for a mere dime per copy.

Like the Blue and Gold, The Flame will be managed by the student body.

Musical Activities

Gould Academy musical activities were off to a rousing start early in the school year. The band, under the direction of Mr. Owen, put on some very good demonstrations for the football games and, between these and basketball games, worked hard on concert music. On February 13 the first of exchange concerts featuring the combined bands of Groveton, New Hampshire, and Gould was held at Groveton. On March 19, Gould was host when it was presented here. The band also played in the Spring Concert and for Commencement exercises.

Instead of their usual concert the members of the William Rogers Chapman Club chose to present a series of assembly programs for the students' benefit. Heading the organization this year was President Don Christie with Mike Hathaway as Vice-President and Mary Jo Head as Secretary-Treasurer.

The Dance Band, new last year and composed mainly of Chapman Club members, performed several times during the year for the enjoyment of Gould students.

This year Gould had only two glee clubs, the Varsity Glee Club and the Girls' Chorus. They first made an appearance on Parents' Day with lively renditions of several well-known songs. The next event on the agenda was the Christmas Vespers when the glee clubs put on one of the most enjoyable programs of that kind Gould has ever had. They also sang in the annual Spring Concert, and in June the Baccalaureate Choir and Varsity Glee Club sang for the Commencement exercises.

On November 14 several members of the band and glee clubs took part in the Western Maine Music Festival held in Sanford. And in April a few members of these groups were privileged to take part in the Third Annual Independent Schools' Music Festival.

Congratulations to Mr. Owen, the bands, Chapman Club, and glee clubs for a wonderful year of music at Gould Academy!

French Club

The French Club officers for the year 1959-60 were: President, John Hill; Vice President, Sandra Cole; Secretary, Sally Hancock; and Treasurer, Pat Hill. Congratulations are in order to these officers for their contributions to the betterment of the club.

This year membership was limited to those who had taken two or more years of French or French II students with a B average or better. The members have enjoyed such things as French exhibits, movies, and hope to go to Portland to see "Can-Can" in the spring.

During the Christmas season at Gould, the French Club held their annual Christmas party; they exchanged small gifts and sang carols in preparation for the annual house to house French caroling, in which all of the energetic members participated that same evening at 6:30 P.M.

The main event of the year was the annual French Club party. The members eagerly decorated the William Bingham Gymnasium in preparation for the big night and all who came seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves.

Another annual event is the French Club picnic held in the spring, which is the club's last big activity. This picnic included a trip through the woods, a dinner cooked over an outside fire, and general gab sessions enjoyed by all who were there.

The club would like to extend its thanks to Mr. Auger and Miss Bucci, Gould's French teachers, for helping to make the club more of a success.

Arts and Crafts

Four times each week small groups of girls, totaling about a dozen in number, meet in the crafts' room downstairs in the boys' dorm. There, under the leadership of Mr. Owen, each girl tries her hand at such skills as: silver work, jewelry, enameling, silk-screening, and pottery.

It is a slow process of hard work to produce a perfect article. For instance, in silver work, an article must first be designed and then cut from a sheet of silver. It is then filed, polished, soldered, and molded to desired shape. The finished product is either an attractive pin, a set of earrings, a ring, or some other piece of jewelry of which the owner can be proud.

This year there is new equipment with which to work. Thus the process is speeded up, and the finished article appears more professional.

At the end of the year, the jewelry is arranged and combined with the Home Economics' Spring Exhibition in the cottage. Thus ends another successful year of work and accomplishment for these enthusiastic people. Thanks to the help and patience of Mr. Owen, we hope these classes will continue for many years.

Camera Club

In order to become a full-fledged member of the Camera Club, a student must express only a desire to join. There is no special subject which the club member must take, nor need he attain any specified level of proficiency in any subject. The membership is not confined to either boys or girls. No auditions are held. In fact, a new member need know nothing about photography.

During the second week of this school year former club members met and elected their officers: President, Donald Christie; Vice President, Dave Marsh; Treasurer, Kent Taylor; and Secretary, Judy Verrill. The first of twenty regular meetings was held the following week. The secretary's records show an enrollment of forty-five active members for this 1959-1960 season.

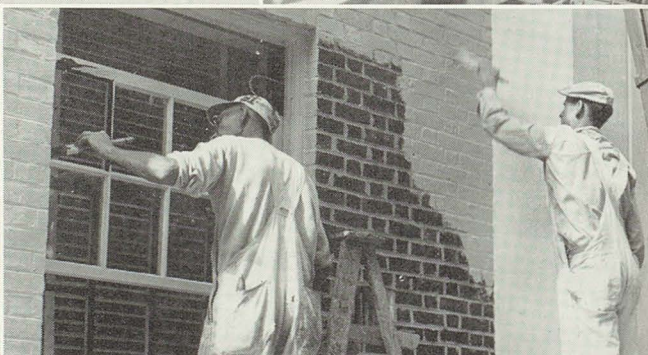

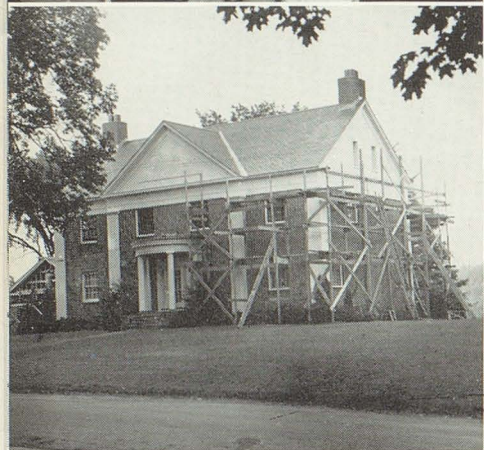

The beginner is not forgotten. Regular club meetings, held on at least two planned Tuesdays in each month, together with smaller, special group meetings often conducted in the club darkroom or studio, provide opportunities for both the novice and the more experienced worker to pursue his hobby as far as he wishes. Scheduled programs consist of narrative films and slide talks and live demonstrations on the fundamentals of photography — proper camera use, negative processing, basic enlarging and printing, and special fields of study, composition, portraiture, still life, color and print control. At the regular meetings members are presented with the basic ideas and facts and are left on their own to further study photography and attain some degree of proficiency in it by actual use of cameras and a darkroom. They are helped, whenever necessary, by the advisor and experienced members. The small special meeting is an example of the continuance of the regular program.

One of the best ways by which the beginner increases his practical photographic knowledge, and probably the best known club activity, is the making and selling of hundreds of photographs of campus social, seasonal, and athletic activities to the student body each year. This club activity enables members to use cameras and learn darkroom technique and help the club at the same time. This major club function is also the chief source of the income with which new equipment, chemicals, film and paper are purchased. Another less-known activity is the making of prints for publication in the Blue and Gold and daily newspapers. The Camera Club also provides prints of campus life for use in the school catalogue. Many of the photographs in this Academy Herald were supplied by the Camera Club.

But individual attention and advancement are not sacrificed for money-making schemes and publicity. Profit-making is but a part of the club organization. While it may not be evident, the individual member is the center of all club work. Each member is encouraged to take pictures. First, the young photographer thinks of a picture idea, whether it is a still life or a fast action shot, or perhaps a portrait of a classmate or a scene to be taken in the surrounding Oxford County hills. (A readily available type of subject matter was offered by the new skiway this past winter.) Then he prepares his equipment: camera, tripod, lights, filters, etc., and goes on location to begin "shooting." Painstaking darkroom work follows, and mistakes sometimes are made, but the photographer, using his already acquired knowledge and accepting pointers from other members, is at last able to produce a fine salon print. These prints are placed in a rotating display in Hanscom Hall, and a permanent collection of over one hundred of them can be seen at any time in Holden Hall. The culmination of a member's efforts is his placing a fine print in this display.

By the time he has reached the end of his senior year, the active Camera Club member has gained a thorough, practical knowledge of photographic fundamentals that could well lead, as it has with several members in past years, to photography as a profession, or at least provide him with an enjoyable fascinating hobby good for a lifetime.

The members are grateful for help given them by their advisor, Mr. Gayle Foster. When he joined the Gould faculty in 1942, Mr. Foster became the advisor of a small student group interested in photography. With his aid and enthusiastic co-operation of members, the Gould Academy Camera Club became a successful reality. An eminent photographer himself, Mr. Foster has been able to give expert assistance and advice to club members, then letting them pursue their photographic interests as far as they wished. The great number of excellent salon prints made by members proves the success of this program. Giving unselfishly of his time and personal materials, Mr. Foster has earned the respect of every club member and the school.

Future Homemakers of America

One of the most helpful and well-known organizations for girls at Gould Academy is the Future Homemakers of America, more commonly known as the F.H.A.

Striving to develop their motto, "Toward New Horizons," and to help improve personal, family, and community living this group of thirty-five members holds regular monthly meetings under the leadership of President, Sylvia Benson; Vice-President, Nancy Lincoln; Secretary, Louise Lincoln; Treasurer Dixie Lea Brown; Song Leader, Barbara Angevine; Historian, Elizabeth Jackson; Reporter, Loretta Blake; Parliamentarian, Sharon Nowlin. Also, each class has an organized group which holds meetings twice a month. The chairman of these groups are: Fresh-

The chapter was fortunate in sending their first delegate to the National Convention which was held this summer in Chicago. From this convention the new program of work was adopted which includes four new objectives: to develop our potential abilities; to develop a better understanding of our family members and contribute to their well-being; to interpret the value of home economics as a basic part of our education; to promote good-will by getting to know our neighbors at home and abroad.

The Gould chapter selected the second and fourth objectives for its program of work this year. In working towards this new program, projects such as Christmas baskets for the needy, foreign dance, panel discussions among family members, sunshine baskets for community members, and Mother and Daughter Banquet, along with various money-making projects are being carried out by the girls.

The District Convention was held at Leavitt Institute in the fall where Dixie Lea Brown presided as Chairman, and Loretta Blake was chosen as Vice-Chairman for 1960-61. The theme of this convention was "Blueprint for Action," which dealt with the new program of work.

This was also the theme of the State Convention held in Augusta in the spring which also emphasized the new program.

The chapter is privileged to have Sandra Lapham on the state committee, Degrees of Achievement, this year.

In all their work, the girls strive to accomplish eight purposes and goals set up for them by the National F.H.A.: to promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking; to emphasize the importance of worthy home membership; to encourage democracy in home and community life; to promote international good-will; to work for good home and family life for all; to foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life; to provide a wholesome individual and group recreation; to further interest in home economics.

Dramatics

Grease Paint, Footlights, and Curtain Calls

Although Gould Academy has no formal dramatics club, it does boast of the fact that once a year it sponsors three one-act comedies and, of course, the annual three-acter known as the senior play.

During the past eighteen years Mr. Thompson has done a remarkably good job of selecting, casting and directing all of these productions. This year the very capable Mr. Vogt has offered his valuable assistance with the one-act plays. Mr. Vogt, a recent addition to the teaching staff, arrived on campus with a vast knowledge of amateur presentations gathered while he was an instructor at Worcester Academy, Worcester, Massachusetts, and allowed to experiment on the Warner Theater stage. The first two plays were under his direction.

On the eve of February sixth at eight o'clock, the lights dimmed and the curtains rolled back to reveal the setting for "While the Toast Burned", a humorous approach to the chaos of an American breakfast hour, by Mary Clarke Werts. Assuming the air and responsibility of the head of the family, Herbert Canby (Walter Grover) tried desperately to maintain some semblance of sanity and order. His charming, adoring wife attempted to be the steadying force while the toast got out of hand and proceeded to complicate things still further by becoming quite charred. Herbert, Jr. (Gary Hill) is a slightly obtrusive adolescent whose chief interests are to talk about cars and to tease his sister Mary Lou (Jane Allen) into a mild frenzy by pilfering her very confidential mail. However, this comedy was stolen, with little effort, by Grandmother Canby (Betty Vinton), who was physically arthritic but mentally alert.

The second selection, "The Kid From Mars" by Le Roma Eshbach Greth, was played in a seemingly normal living room shortly before an all-important school dance for which neither Peggy (Bonnie Eames) nor Joan (Cheryl Douglass) had dates. Donnie (John Somes), Peggy's space-minded brother and his pal, Bill (Alan Blunt), have no intention of being trapped into escorting the girls. Both the boys and the girls hatch a plan by which they intend to scare the others. Each couple planned to accomplish their own ends by having some friends appear as space visitors. However, the joke backfires and two actual space kids from Mars (Dwight Mills and Elizabeth Jackson) arrive and, because they are repeatedly insulted, leave. Only when, with a whir of motors the Martians take off do the woe-begone teenagers realize that the opportunity of their lives just flew back to an unknown planet!

Next on the agenda was the farcical comedy, "Come, Fill the Cup", by Peg Harig. In her Greenwich home Brunnhilde Isolde Chillicothe (Carol Young) raised all her five daughters to pursue various creative arts—all that is but her youngest, Sarah Donovan (Sharon York). Slightly dubiously Sarah brought her new love, Harvey Henderson (George Elliot), into the studio to meet her family, only to have her mother slowly steal his affection. Upon being introduced to these Bohemian sisters, who each had different fathers, poor Harvey was rather confused. The eldest, Picasso (Betty Phipps), spoke with a thick French accent and pranced about painting first one's portrait then another's. T. S. Epstein (Lorraine Cole) remained aloof and conversed only in a stream of consciousness, being a poet. Johanna Sebastianna McGuinness (Pam Perkins) delighted in showing her skill as an aspiring concert pianist. Tour jetes and pirouettes came as naturally as breathing to dancing Pavlova Danilova Hochstetter (Carol Wilson). Before the visit was over, Harvey had fallen in love with Mama and had absorbed much of the beatnik flavor.

An eager audience assembled in the William Bingham Gym on April 29 to see the senior class of 1960 present the hilarious comedy, "Wake Up, Darling." Promptly at eight o'clock the set opened and the rather nervous cast launched forth to give a brilliant amateur performance.

Polly Emerson (Betsy Webster) is a young actress who suddenly found herself cast in the lead of a new musical after many bit parts. Bubbling over, she rushes home only to be looked scornfully at by her maid, Juliet (Lorraine Cole), for not bringing the groceries for dinner. Her husband's secretary, Martha (Janet Hill), takes the news rather coolly, firmly believing that Polly should settle down to the role of a good wife and mother. Before long Deerfield Prescott (George Elliot), the author of the play in question, drops by the apartment to keep their dinner date. When Don Emerson (John Todd) comes home expecting to have a quiet evening at home, Deerfield, not realizing that Polly is married, mistakes the reason for his presence and for his key to the apartment. Just when Deerfield knows that Polly is a married woman and decides to try and win her anyway, in rushes Gloria (Sue Saunders), the lovely triple-divorcee, to further disrupt the once quiet Emerson household. Finally Don can't stand the mess any more and he tries to rid himself and his wife of Deerfield forever. The resulting riot brings two burly policemen (Ben White and Steve Watson) to remove the two offenders to city jail. This unexpected turn of events brings Deerfield's dad (Mike Hathaway) and his college sweetheart (Sally Hancock) catapulting in in search of this "new" Deerfield. Each of the intruders melts away and leaves the Emersons, newly expectant parents, to enjoy their fresh, reblossoming love when suddenly the solitude is broken as Polly's mother (Barbara Mundt) bursts triumphantly in to embrace her beloved daughter. Don shudders and the curtain quickly closes to blot out the sight of his misery!

DEBATING CLUB

Debating Club

In this, the second year of the debating club, the members spent an informative and enjoyable time under the guidance of Mr. Vinton.

The meetings, every Thursday, were continued as last year with various informal discussions and planned debates. This year, however, a point system was established whereby the members could win letters. A few will be awarded at the end of the year.

On November 13, some of the group went to Bates College to listen to and take part in the discussions and debates. The two who took part, Merry Ring and Stan Clark, each won second place in their groups. Nice work, you two!

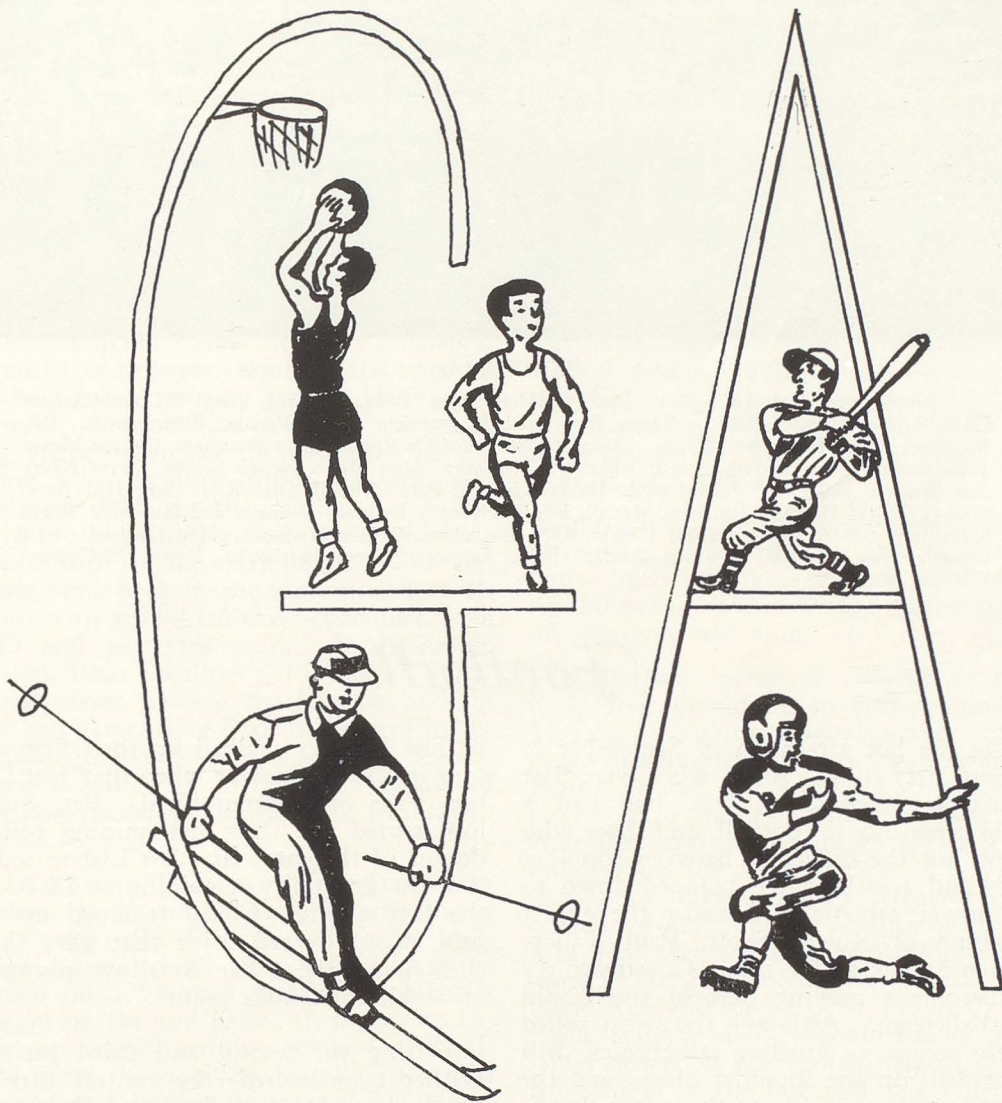

December 17, a formal debate was held in assembly on the topic Resolved: Compulsory arbitration is necessary at some point in labor management. The negative side convinced the student body that it wasn't necessary, while the affirmative side made almost a clean sweep of the faculty's votes. All in all, it was a very informative debate that was well planned and executed.

In the spring, it is hoped that a team will represent Gould in the National debates. Several people have already expressed interest in them.

Looking back on a successful year, the members all hope that next year will be even better.

Football

On the hot afternoon of September 8, almost fifty boys, some who were last year's lettermen, some who had had a little experience in football, and those who knew not the difference between shoulder pads and a kicking tee, tramped down to the lower athletic field under the expert coaching of Robert Scott, Paul Kailey, Steven Jacobs, and William Cousins to try to become a moving part of the Gould football team. Although the sweat rolled freely because of grueling calisthenics, drill after drill on the shoulder block, and the most familiar cry, "Keep those legs churning; why won't you hold on to that football?!!!" the Husky eleven in three weeks' time was becoming a well-co-ordinated ball club, as shown by their first game.

The Huskies chalked up their first victory in their first game when they met Lisbon Falls on Alumni Field. Pete Swallow scored the three determining touchdowns of the game that left Lisbon scoreless, the final tally remaining at 18-0. In the first quarter, Gould tromped up the field in a 58-yard drive that gave them their first score, Peter Swallow plunging off tackle for the six points.

During the second and third periods, neither team scored, the contest turning into a defensive duel; however, the fourth quarter brought a 41-yard drive concluding Later in the period, after successful runs by Nelson Smith and Captain Doug Rice, with another off-tackle sprint by Swallow.

Rice connected with Swallow again on an aerial play that scored the last touchdown. All the sweat and work had paid off.

In their next game, Bridgton played hosts to the Huskies on Community Field at Bridgton. This one gave Gould its second straight win, as they surged ahead in the second half to a final score of 13-0. In the first half, the Gold and Blue couldn't get rolling with enough momentum to score; late in the second period, a penalty nullified a touchdown by Doug Rice, leaving both teams scoreless at the half. However, determined rushes on the part of the Huskies put the ball on Bridgton's 5-yard line, where Guy Burnham scored off-tackle. A Bridgton fumble set Gould up for its last score in the fourth period, when Peter Swallow dashed 25-yards around left end, followed by a scoring plunge by Captain Rice.

On Parents' Day at the Academy, Gould's competitor, South Paris, proved to be a bit too strong for the Huskies to handle. It looked as if Gould was to be the victor when on the first play of the game, Pete Swallow found daylight and sprinted right up the middle for a 53-yard touchdown play, followed by his successful rush for the extra point. However, Paris came back in the same period to tie it up with a 61-yard drive concluded by a TD and an extra point. In the fourth period, Peter Swallow's TD capped a 72-yard march, putting the Huskies back in the ball game, since Paris had scored in the second quarter. With a score of 14-13, Paris scored again in the late minutes of the final period, establishing the final tally: 20-14.

In possibly the most exciting game of the season, the determined Gold and Blue upset a twenty-point favorite Livermore Falls with a score of 20-14. After Livermore scored on a 59-yard march, the Huskies caught on fire and passed their way to the Livermore one-yard line, where Pete Swallow drove through for the tally; the extra point failed, leaving the score at 7-6. However, the score didn't remain constant for long, for Gould picked up a Livermore fumble on their 40-yard line, Guy Burnham picking up 25-yards on a unbalanced screen pass; Nelson Smith bulled his way up the middle for thirteen yards and then dived through for the tally; Guy Burnham scored the extra point, the score now 13-7. Later in the period, another Andy fumble gave Gould their third touchdown when Burnham again sprinted around left end with a screen pass, this time scoring; Nelson Smith then smacked the middle for the extra point. The Andies scored late in the fourth quarter; however, it was too late for a come-back.

The next game with Norway brought to Gould its second defeat. Costly mistakes and weak defensive play enabled the Norway backfield to break through to the end zone four times to the Huskies' one touchdown. Norway scored first five-yard crossbuck, after which the extra point was made. However, Captain Rice connected a sixty-four yard pass play with LE Pete Karpowich, who took the ball to the Norway four; Swallow and Burnham then made 7 points, Swallow bucking over for the TD. Norway again in the second period marched 64 yards downfield for another successful TD and extra point. The score at half time 14-7.

In the third and fourth quarters Norway intercepted a Gould pass and blocked a punt, both mistakes proving fatal with touchdowns. When the last second ticked off, Norway had won: 26-7.

With four inches of treacherous mud under foot, Gould met its next competitor, Mexico, on a rainy, miserable day. Early in the first quarter, halfback Peter Swallow swung around left end and scored on a twenty-yard sprint. The score was 7-0 after Guy Burnham plunged through the middle for the extra point. Until the half, both teams played a defensive game because of the slippery conditions of the field. However, in the third period, Mexico came to life and intercepted a pass from Doug Rice and scored both TD and extra point, tying it up 7-7. Gould found themselves down on the Pintos' five-yard line three times in the last half but failed to score, the game ending in a tie—7-7.

In this last game of the season, some members of the team, namely the seniors, were putting on for the last time their beloved shoulder pads, were for the last time performing calisthenics in front of the stands, and for the last time hearing the whistle for the kick-off. For Fryeburg it meant the same thing. Gould and Fryeburg have been rivals for a long time; the Huskies have not been defeated by them for sixteen years; yet, an old burning desire to get out there and do one's best against one's rival—win, lose or draw—permeated the minds of every player that day. For the seniors of the Husky team, it was a day filled with memories that would linger with them for the rest of their lives. Why? Because they had won their last game!

During the first quarter, there was no score; however, in the second period, the Huskies awakened and with a perfect pass from Doug Rice, Nelson Smith raced down the sidelines for a touchdown. Pete Swallow then pushed through for the extra point, the score 7-0. Fryeburg, in the third quarter, came alive with a touchdown pass and a successful conversion, tying the game 7-7. Guy Burnham, after scoring once on a screen pass, scored again on a statue of liberty pass on Fryeburg's twenty yard line in the fourth quarter, wrapping up the game for the Huskies. Fryeburg several times set up tricky pass patterns; however, the Gould defense proved to be wide awake, thus preventing any additional score by Fryeburg. Thus, at the finish of the contest, Gould Academy left the field with its fourth win for the season, beating Fryeburg Academy 19-7. Gould ended their season with a 4-2-1 record, a good one indeed. Congratulations to the team, the coaches, and the managers!

Good luck to Captain-elect Richard York and his team of 1960. Hit 'em hard!

Cross Country

Gould's 1959 season looked good with the returning lettermen, Captain Ed Bernier, Don Angevine, Bob Allen, Rupert Grover and Fred Lincoln; and the other veterans were Paul Calef, Lindy Felt, Pete Stowell and Fred Judkins.

Gould's first meet was held October 1 at Fryeburg Academy. The Huskies carried the meet with a sound victory of 20 to 39. Don Angevine and Captain Ed Bernier walked off with the first two places, followed by Fred Lincoln, Bob Allen and Paul Calef in that order.

The Huskies' second race was a three-way meet with Mexico and Wilton at Wilton on October 8. Running the 2.6 mile, hilly course, the Gould boys beat both teams by scores of 21 for Gould, 42 for Mexico, and 57 for Wilton. Don Angevine and Ed Bernier again took the first two places. Other Gould finishers were Fred Lincoln, Bob Allen, Fred Judkins and Rupert Grover, respectively.

Gould was handed its first loss by a powerful Portland High on October 13 in Portland. The course was a difficult one to follow. Running up sidewalks and crossing streets, Don Angevine managed not to get lost, grabbing second place. He was followed by Ed Bernier, who took sixth place. Fred Lincoln, Paul Calef, Bob Allen and Fred Judkins took 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th places.

Gould's fourth meet on October 23 was run against Phillips Academy on our home course in the rain. Even though Don Angevine placed 2nd and Ed Bernier placed 5th, Gould lost the meet by a score of 34 to 21.

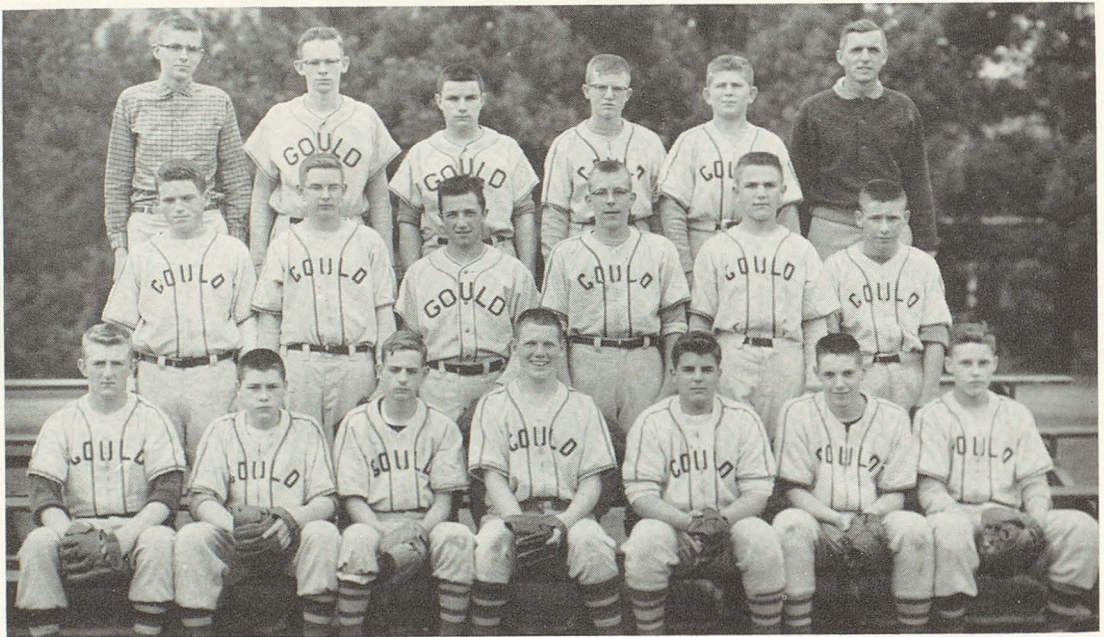

The Huskies ran their fifth meet on October 29 against Hebron Academy again on the home course. A strong squad from Hebron trimmed the Huskies by a slim 25 to 32. Don Angevine ran away with first place, followed by Fred Lincoln in 3rd place, Bob Allen in 7th place and Allen Ring in 9th place.

Hoping for another victory, Gould went proudly to Orono, Maine for the class "M" championships on November 5. The Huskies, not running up to par, took a 7th place. Congratulations to Don Angevine for winning this race, making him the best class "M" runner in the state.

With a majority of the lettermen and veterans returning, Paul Calef, captain-elect, looks forward to a successful 1960 season.

Baseball

With the Western Maine Conference Championship to defend, Coach Bowhay and the Gould team fought their way to a regular season tie with rival South Paris, each team having a 7-win, 3-loss record. In the play-off game with championship at stake, Gould proved to be the stronger team, gaining an 8-7 victory, to keep the Conference title at Gould. The 1959 season was one of the most closely contested and exciting battles of recent years, Gould finally taking the honors in the play-off thriller.

After finally escaping from the stagnant air of the cage to the fresh air of Alumni Field, the Huskies played Stephens High of Rumford in a practice game on April 18. Gould ended up on the short end of a 6-2 decision; however, this fortunately proved not to be a forecast of future games for the W. M. C. champs. Coach Bowhay substituted frequently, testing the abilities of his various players under game conditions.

On April 21, Gould hosted Norway in the first regular season game. Gould, playing as defending champions, scored five runs in the first inning, added six more tallies during the remaining of the game, and was never seriously threatened, as Norway was downed 11-6. Al Sumner held the visitors to four scattered hits, as he struck out seven.

On the next Friday, Gould traveled to Mechanic Falls, a new addition to the W. M. C., replacing Dixfield, which had pulled out of the league. This new team was no pushover, as the Huskies squeaked out of the pitchers' duel by a 2-1 score, giving Clarkson Edwards his victory. Gould scored once as Pete Wheeler dropped a bloop single over third and again as Mechanic Falls pitcher Tibbets walked four in a row.

The next game, held at Mexico on April 28, was a more decisive victory, Gould downing the Pintos 13-5. Al Sumner had no trouble holding the opponents to three hits while striking out eleven. Bob Felt showed his power at the plate as he blasted a home run, two triples and a single for a perfect day at bat. Doug Rice also had a double and two singles for five times up.

With three straight victories under their belt, the Gould team met their match as they traveled to South Paris on the first of May. Alton Swan, Paris's ace pitcher, with his slow-breaking curve allowed only one hit to Gould. Edwards, Sumner, and Collins all were unsuccessful in holding the South Paris hitters. Steven Watson singled in the fifth inning to take the coveted no-hit game away from Swan.

The traditional non-league game with Fryeburg was held on May 4 at the Gould diamond. Gould picked up all eight of its tallies in the first two frames. These were nearly all due to the battery of Fryeburg, who allowed five bases on balls, six passed balls, and a wild pitch. The game ended with a score of Gould 8, Fryeburg 5. Clarkson Edwards got help from dependable Al Sumner in gaining the victory.

The return match with Norway, held at the fairgrounds on May 8, was a repeat of the Gould victory of a few weeks previous, this time the score being 8-3 in favor of Gould. Once again tireless Al Sumner turned back the Norway team with only four hits. Doug Rice had two singles and two stolen bases for his day's work; Clarkson Edwards and Pete Wheeler also had two hits apiece.

Gould moved into first position in the Western Maine Conference as they handed Bridgton a 5-2 defeat on May 12 at Gould's Alumni Field. Bridgton's MacDonald and Edwards had pitched to a 2-2 tie until the fifth when Doug Rice unloaded a two-run homer over the left field fence. The winners added one more run in the sixth, Al Sumner coming on to relieve Edwards and insure the victory. Steve Watson and Jeff Hutchins each collected a pair of hits to supplement Rice's clout.

Three days after moving into the number one position, Gould was challenged by second place South Paris. The invaders were turned back, however, by a score of 5-2 on the three-hit pitching of Al Sumner. Sumner struck out ten and walked only one, while Paris ace Swan struck out eleven but issued six bases on balls. Gould broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth as Felt and Sumner walked, Hutchins reached on a fielder's choice, Wheeler singled, and a Paris error gave Gould three runs and the victory. Captain Lin Small had the only other hit of the game for the Huskies.

On May 16 Gould traveled to Fryeburg and suffered its worst loss of the season. The non-league game ended with the score Fryeburg 13, Gould 1. Collins and Small gave up ten hits in an attempt to suppress the riot. But these hits combined with eight errors gave the W. M. C. champs a humiliating defeat.

The return match with Mechanic Falls was nearly as close-fought a battle as the first encounter, but this time Gould was on the short end of the 3-1 score. Al Sumner held the Mechanic Falls team to four hits, but his teammates could only manage two singles from the opposing pitcher, Tibbets.

On May 26 Gould was on the road again, this time playing at Bridgton. In the very first inning the Huskies produced five big runs on four miscues by Bridgton, two walks, and a double by Al Sumner. Sumner again on the mound put the Bridgton team down on three quick outs in the last of the first. But Gould could not push another run across the plate for the remainder of the game. Bridgton slowly closed the five-run gap, collecting their runs one by one. The final score was Bridgton 9, Gould 5.

The do-or-die game for Gould came on May 29 when last place Mexico came to Bethel. A Gould loss would give South Paris sole possession of first place in the W. M. C.; a victory would tie Gould with them and occasion a play-off game. Mexico scored one run in the first inning and then Al Sumner settled down to work. He slammed the door in Mexico's face, allowing only one hit while striking out thirteen. Gould was no better off as Art Leavitt didn't allow a hit until Jeff Hutchins singled in the fifth. Mexico's lone run loomed bigger and bigger as the game progressed. But finally in the last inning Steve Watson singled; then with one out Al Sumner drove a four-bagger to deep center-field to give Gould the 2-1 win and a tie for the Western Maine Conference pennant.

June 4 was set as the date for the play-off, and the Gould field was the chosen site. Gould started off strong as the entire team went to bat in the first inning and picked up four runs. Lin Small knocked a triple for the big blow of the frame. South Paris went until the third inning before they could get onto Sumner's fast ball and push over a pair of runs. Paris tallied once in the sixth, but the Huskies came back with four in the seventh to make the score 8-3. The Parisians fought a pair of runs across in the eighth and closed the gap in the ninth with two more. With the score 8-7 in Gould's favor and the tying run on third, Al Sumner, as he had done so often during the season, put all he had into his pitching and struck out Paris slugger, Mike Haley, to end the game. The Gould Huskies had successfully defended their W. M. C. championship.

The Alumni game was set for Saturday, June 6, which dawned a warm summer day; but as the teams took the field, the rains came down. The players renewed old acquaintances in the field house, but their abilities remained untested, as the rain sufficiently dampened the field to prevent play. The varsity players later voted Steve Watson to captain the 1960 team.

The 1959 Gould Academy thinclads, under the able coaching of Mr. Roderick and Mr. Scott, enjoyed a very successful season. With the help of tough practice, the team developed depth which counts greatly in the final score.

Gould opened their season by defeating Stephens High of Rumford and Mexico High in a triangular meet. Pete Karpowich led the team to the victory by capturing 16 points. Fred Lincoln and Don Angevine were also high scorers with 14 and 10 points respectively. Pete Lessard of Stephens also totaled 10 points.

The following week, Gould traveled to Farmington for their first dual meet. This time it was Bob Weston, taking first in the sprints and Don Angevine, capturing firsts in the distances, who led Gould to an easy win over Farmington High. Dick Daggett was high scorer for Farmington. The final scoring was $77\frac{1}{2}$ points for Gould to $39\frac{1}{2}$ points for Farmington.

The next meet was a triangular meet, Cony High of Augusta and Norway High, at which Gould played host. Gould again showed its power by taking ten firsts. Double winners for Gould were Pete Karpowich, Don Angevine and Bob Weston. The final scores were: Gould $89\frac{1}{2}$ points, Cony 27 points and Norway $26\frac{1}{2}$ points.

The meet scheduled with Winslow the next week was cancelled. Looking for an opponent, Gould was invited to travel to Auburn to compete against Lewiston High and Edward Little of Auburn. Don Angevine was the double winner for Gould, taking first in both the mile and 880 events. Other first place winners for Gould were Pete Karpowich, high hurdles; Steve Karpowich, broad jump; Eric Wight, shot put; Bob Weston, 440; Mike Hathaway, discus; and Fred Lincoln, pole vault. Mark Freeman tied for first place in the high jump with Nat Crowley of Lewiston. Although Edward Little showed a strong team, Gould won the meet by a substantial margin. The final scores were Gould, 68 5/6; Edward Little, 48 5/6; and Lewiston, 25 1/3.

The next week found Gould defending its long held Oxford County Crown. Gould again obtained the winning position by a broad margin. Gould outdistanced their nearest competitor by 24 1/4 points. Leading Gould to victory was Jeff Newsom, winning both the mile and the half mile events. Other first place winners for Gould were Fred Lincoln, Mike Hathaway, Steve Karpowich, and Eric Wight. Besides six first places, Gould placed competitors among the top four finishing places in all events except the 220.

On May 29, Gould traveled to Lewiston to compete for the first time in the Andy Valley meet. This time, led to victory by Fred Lincoln, Eric Wight and Mark Freeman, who broke the previous high jump record, Gould won the meet with 49 3/4 points. Stephens High of Rumford was second with 39 3/4 points. Although Gould came through with only three first places, the team displayed its skill by placing men in other finishing positions.

June 6 found the defending state champions of Gould Academy, traveling to Bangor for the annual state track meet. Since Gould had won the Crown the previous year by a 1 1/2 point squeaker over Winslow High, it was Winslow's turn to win by a small margin of 7 points. Although Gould took only one first place, Eric Wight in the shot put, the team again showed its skill by occupying other scoring positions. Possibly the score would have been higher if Don Angevine had not been out with an injured foot.

Although Gould lost the state crown to Winslow, all will agree that the 1959 track team, under the leadership of Captain Bob Weston, enjoyed a very successful season.

The spring of 1960, under the leadership of Captain-elect John Todd, shows prospects of repeating a successful year, possibly regaining the state title.

SKI TEAM

Skiing

The Gould ski team was fortunate to have back this year seven lettermen of the 1959 squad. Last year's graduation took only one letterman. The returning lettermen were Pete Mendall, Pete Karpowich, Don Angevine, Sam Appleton, Bill Call, and co-captains, Fred Lincoln and Pete Swallow. Nelson Smith and Pete Davis, both sophomores, helped a great deal this year in jumping, while Jay Langley, a newcomer, did an exceptional job in both downhill and slalom. Of course the team had to have a manager, and he was Dwight Lord.

Gould's first meet was held at Plymouth, N. H., on January 9th with both Holderness and Littleton, N. H. The slalom was the first event held and took place at Cannon Mountain. Holderness took a slight lead in this event over Gould. The jumping took place at Plymouth with Gould taking the event by only a few points. Due to the extreme cold, the cross-country was not held. Holderness edged out Gould in the final tally by a mere two hundredths of a point.

The following week the team traveled to North Conway, N. H., where they took place in a seven-way meet. After the first event, the cross-country, Gould was in second place with Edward Little of Auburn in first. The following day the downhill was held. Gould did well with men placing 1st, 3rd, 4th, and 7th. In the slalom Gould finishers were 1st, 4th, 11th, and 20th. The jumping squad topped off the meet by getting 99.94 points, which is an almost perfect score. Gould won the meet, and it had been the first time in four years that Gould had beaten Edward Little.

On January 23, the Alpine squad traveled to Bridgton where they competed in the E. L. Carnival. In the downhill Gould edged out E. L., but later on in the day E. L. came back to win the slalom by one point. The next day was a different matter when Gould took both the cross-country and the jumping. Don Angevine won the cross-country with Fred Lincoln, Pete Swallow, and Pete Karpowich following with the 3rd, 5th, and 8th positions respectively. In the jumping Gould did even better with Nelson Smith taking 1st, Pete Swallow 2nd, Pete Davis 4th, and Pete Karpowich 5th. In the final tally, Gould took E. L. by a good margin of seven points.

On January 29 the Gould skiers brought home another win by defeating the three teams of Hanover, N. H., Kennett, N. H., and Hebron. The cross-country team started the meet off well by defeating their nearest opponent, Hanover, by fifteen points. In the following day they did equally as well by taking the jumping with a perfect score of 100. The team lost the slalom by four points to Hanover, but in turn took Hanover by two points in the downhill.

On February 5th the Alpine squad traveled to Sugarloaf Mountain, where the downhill and slalom of the State of Maine Class "A" Ski Championships were to be held. With two falls in the downhill, Gould ended up in second place after that event. In the slalom the team defeated E. L. by seven points. Jay Langley captured a 3rd while Sam Appleton, Bill Call, and Pete Swallow captured the 4th, 6th, and 7th positions respectively.

On the next day, a rainy one, E. L. began to click as they picked up points in the jumping. Gould lost its first cross-country of the season to Farmington by two points. Gould finishers in the cross-country were Don Angevine 3rd, Fred Lincoln 6th, Pete Swallow 13th, and Pete Karpowich 17th. In the jumping Nelson Smith got 2nd, Pete Swallow 9th, Pete Davis 10th, and Pete Karpowich 11th. In the final scoring Gould edged out E. L.

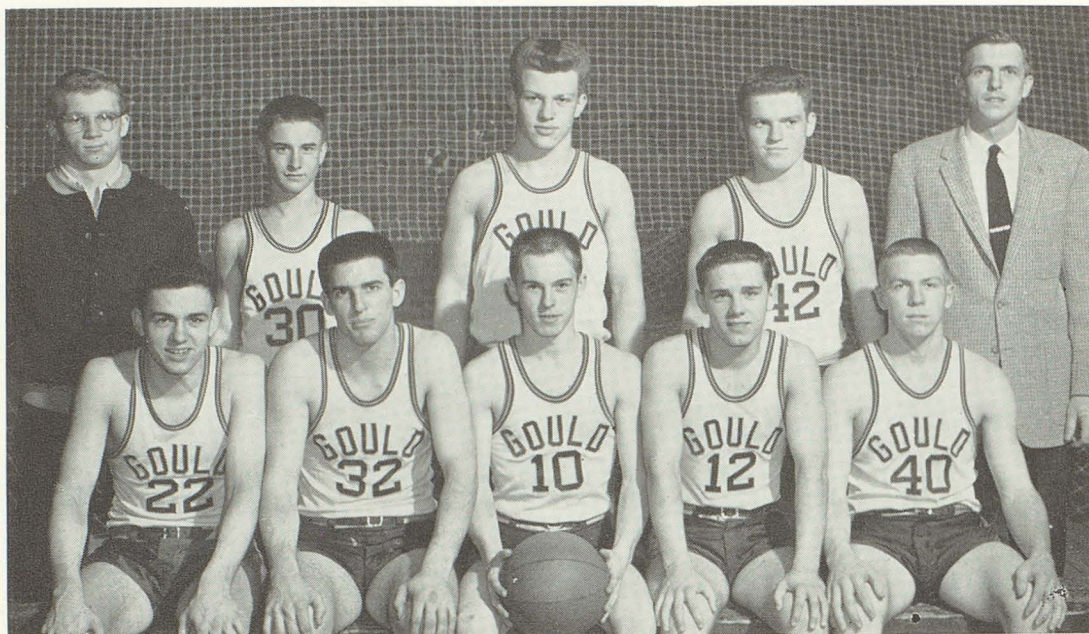

by two points with Farmington taking third.

By winning the state meet, Gould was able to compete in the New England Interscholastic Ski Championships at Lyndonville, Vermont, the following week. The first event held was the downhill. Gould was taken by Lyndon in this event by one point. Pete Swallow took 5th, Sam Appleton 6th, Jay Langley 13th, and Bill Call 22nd. In the afternoon Gould did better by taking Lyndon by .59 points. Gould finishers were Fred Lincoln 4th, Don Angevine 7th, Pete Swallow 15th, and Pete Karpowich 28th. The next day, during the slalom, Gould lost valuable points when it was defeated by Lyndon by 6 points. The gap was too great to close, but the jumping squad helped by gaining two more points over Lyndon. Nelson Smith captured 3rd, Pete Davis and Pete Swallow tied for 4th, and Pete Karpowich took 9th. In the final tally Lyndon took Gould by five points, thus leaving Gould as runner-up.

On the bright and sunny day of March 5, some of New England's top secondary school skiers met at Gould to compete in the annual Gould Winter Carnival. In the morning a fast giant slalom was set up on the slopes of the Sunday River Skiway, Bermuda-clad Jay Langley of Gould edged out Brian Beattie of Lyndon, Vt., to capture first place, with Bill Call, also of Gould, taking a respectable fifth. In the afternoon the competitors traveled to the school hill, where the jumping was to be held. Again Gould took high honors with Pete Davis taking first. Everyone went home happy and most had a slight tan.

Much thanks is extended to Coach Paul Kailey for his help in guiding the team toward a most successful year. The team is losing Don Angevine, Sam Appleton, Pete Swallow, and Pete Karpowich through graduation, but since many of the present members of the squad are sophomores, it is expected that a future team should be very successful.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Basketball

On November 9, about fifty enthusiastic boys reported at the field house for their first drills of the new season. In the first two weeks Coach Berry put the boys through the paces, selecting his varsity squad and cutting the remainder to junior varsity.

At Fryeburg on Tuesday, December 8, Gould Academy opened its 1959-60 basketball season, losing to the Fryeburg team by a close 36-35 score. Although Gould outshot Fryeburg from the floor, the winners had a big advantage at the foul line. Each team produced balanced scoring with Steve Watson and Pete Wheeler leading the Gould team with 9 points each.

Back on their home court, Gould breezed to an easy win over Bridgton High by a score of 53-27. Bill Kinsman and Alex Foster led the well-distributed scoring, while Dick York racked up four baskets.

Playing Norway, Gould came from behind in the final period to down a fighting Norway team, 39-31, in a game played December 15. Bill Kinsman with 12 points and Steve Watson with 16 paced the Huskies.

On Thursday, December 18, Gould won its third straight Western Maine Basketball Conference game as Bill Kinsman tossed in a long set from near midcourt, with just seven seconds remaining to settle a close 44-42 game.

Returning from vacation Gould traveled to Bridgton, where they won a close game, 42-39, as Bill Kinsman was again the hero with 23 points.

In our next outing we lost a close 44-43 game to Notre Dame High of Berlin as they came from behind in the final period to clinch the victory.

On January 15, the Huskies lost their first Conference game as they dropped a 67 to 51 game to South Paris at Paris, although Bill Kinsman was the high scorer with 17 points.

Here in Bethel on January 22, league-leading Mechanic Falls jumped to an early lead and over-powered Gould, 53-31, in a Western Maine Conference game. Pete Wheeler had 10 points to pace Gould.

Gould's chances of catching Mechanic Falls in the Conference race were virtually eliminated as they dropped a 48-38 decision to Norway High on January 26. Steve Watson took the scoring honors, followed by John Kelley and Captain Pete Wheeler.

In Bethel on January 29, the Paris High Cardinals threw up a stone-wall defense in the fourth period to whip a Gould Academy squad, 51-33. Dick York was Gould's lone double-digit scorer with 10 points.

Gould's next game was played at the Norway Armory, where they dropped a 53-31 game to a powerful Mechanic Falls five. Steve Watson led the Gould attack with 13 points.

On February 5 Gould traveled to Mexico, where they lost a close game, 40-37.

The visitors were led by Pete Wheeler and Bill Kinsman, who scored 11 and 8 points respectively.

Although playing one of their better games of the year, Gould found rough going against a tall St. Pat's team of Berlin, losing 70-51. Scoring honors went to John Kelley, who scored 20 points, followed by Bill Kinsman, who scored 17.

The finale proved to be the most exciting game of the year as Gould barely got by Fryeburg by a score of 42-41. Bill Kinsman, playing his last game, turned in a superb rebounding job while scoring 10 points.

Coach Bowhay's J. V.'s had a fine season, winning 9 out of 14. Although they lost some close games, all of them proved to be very exciting, particularly the games with South Paris, Mechanic Falls, and Fryeburg.

Returning next year will be Alex Foster, John Kelley, Dick Ramage, and Dick York, and coming up from this year's J. V. team are Dave Lombard, Don Rice, Owen Melville, and Emerson Merrill. Undoubtedly all of these boys will see action by the time next season rolls around.

Athletic Council

The Gould Academy Athletic Council, under the chairmanship of Edmond J. Vachon, has completed thirteen years of proficient supervision of the sports' program of the school.

The Council is made up of five permanent members, two ex-officio members, and three elective members.

The five permanent members are: Mr. Edmond J. Vachon, Headmaster; Mr. Or-dell H. Anderson, Director of Athletics; Mr. Wilbur Myers, Bursar; Mr. Richmond Roderick, Boys' Physical Education Director; Miss Alice Duffy, Girls' Physical Education Director.

The elective members, having one-year terms of office, serving on the 1959-60 Athletic Council are: Mr. George Bowhay, Head Coach; Nancy Lincoln, President of Girls' A. A.; and John H. Todd, President of Student Council.

The two ex-officio members are: Mr.

Leslie E. Davis, Representative of the Board of Trustees and Mr. Rodney K. Howe, Representative of the Alumni Association. These members serve a one-year term of office and are elected by the permanent and elective members of the Council.

The Athletic Council is responsible for formulating, reviewing, and approving all interscholastic athletic schedules, estimating budgets and approving all expenditures, authorizing the hiring of athletic officials for home games, constructing policies pertaining to athletic injuries received by team members, and approving the awarding of letters to students who have fulfilled the requirements for earning them.

The following boys were awarded letters during the last of the 1958-59 season.

Girls' Physical Education

One of the most popular and stimulating programs at Gould is that of girls' sports. In this program a girl is sure to find some sport, be it basketball or bowling, which challenges her interest and at which she can become proficient.

During the fall months, field hockey, tennis, archery, hiking and golf dominate the scene. Instruction in hockey is given in class and intramural games are played after school. This year's intramural games were quite exciting; five thrilling consecutive games were played between the sophomores and seniors before the seniors finally emerged victorious.

Parents' Day dawned clear and cool, and the Gould girls, competing against Kents Hill in hockey, archery, and tennis, triumphed in all but the varsity hockey game, which, nevertheless, was a well-played game.

Cold weather brought an end to the hockey season and a beginning to volleyball and bowling. These two sports were enthusiastically received by members of all four classes. The juniors won the peg in volleyball after a few tense moments. The Central Alleys saw a lot of girls trying to improve their bowling skills.

These two sports were followed by basketball, skiing, and skating. Basketball, always popular, was played amid the cheers of various members of the teams. Several skating parties, sponsored by the skating group, were enjoyed by the student body. Skiing, perhaps partly because of the opportunities open to Gould students due to the new ski area, was a very popular winter sport. The girls' ski team competed in several meets.

The hint of spring in the air brought out the trampoline, rings, and horse. This was the opportunity for all gymnasts! Badminton and ping-pong tournaments were also held during this season. In April an apparatus demonstration was given. The warmer weather brought everyone out in the air for softball, spring tennis, or archery.

The members of the Girls' Athletic Association, an integral part of the sports' program, put in a very active year. The Halloween party in October, sponsored by this group, was a big success, and the A. A. Banquet in May, at which awards of numerals, 50 points; letters, 100 points; letter pins, 150 points, were awarded, was very much enjoyed by all who attended.

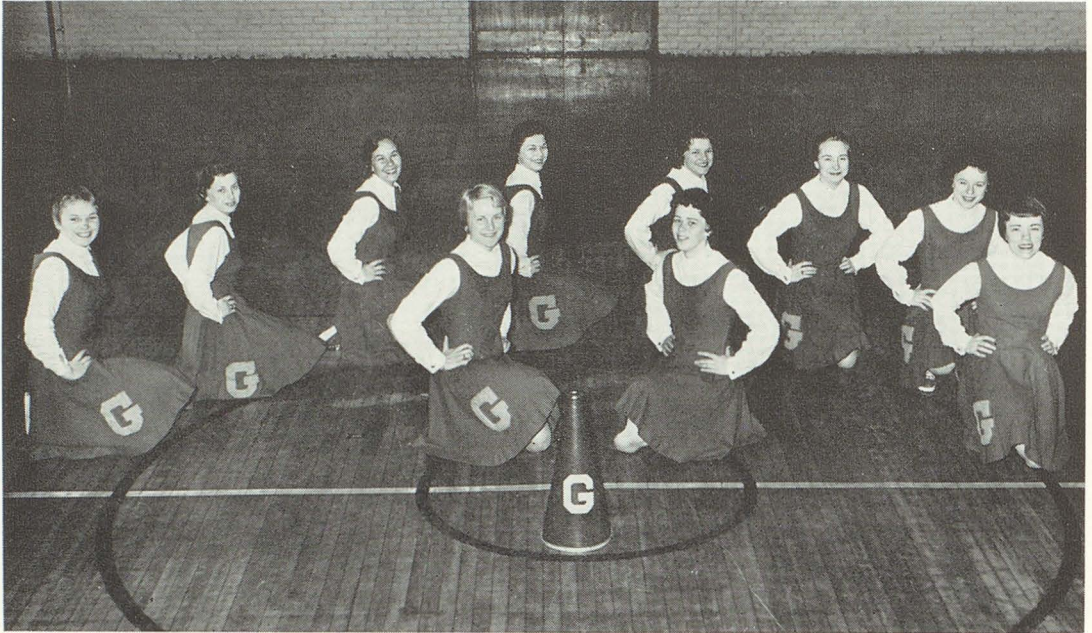

Thus these events highlighted another rewarding years of girls' sports.

CHEERLEADERS

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

Boys' Physical Education

Gould Academy is one of two schools in Maine that have physical education five days a week. This is done under the expert guidance of Mr. Richmond Roderick, better known to all as "Joe". He is a friend to everyone. "Joe" knows every one of his boys and can tell you their home towns and what they like for sports. Every move "Joe" makes is for the betterment or physical correctness of each class. He has a sharp eye for low shoulders and other defects in his boys. With a little time he can correct these. I think that every boy in school owes most of his health, knowledge of gym, apparatus and game rules to "Joe". He is working for us and nobody else.

Gould replaced the old trampoline late last year with a new portable one. This is one type of apparatus "Joe" trains us to use. We are taught the fundamental steps and the field is left open to those who want to go further.

Other types of apparatus used are as follows: the buck, the horse, the parallel bars, and the medicine ball. In each of these "Joe" teaches the fundamentals and then works up to the more difficult stunts. Since tests prove that arm strength is low in the nation, "Joe" teaches rope stunts. These include climbing, jumping, inverting and descending.

Gould has a wonderland of various sports. The corrective exercise room contains a punching bag, a ladder, barbells, wrist grips, weight pulls and a number of mats for wrestling. Two handball courts create much competition among the classes. Two basketball courts, one used for both basketball and volleyball, are the main winter attractions. Basketball, soccer, touch football, volleyball, softball, boxing, and wrestling rules are taught by "Joe".

In spring, track is the outstanding sport. We are taught the use of the shot put as well as how to broad jump, high jump, and throw the discus. Daily 100 yard dash events as well as distance runs help us gain a better understanding of track and its benefits. Along with the games and events themselves a Gould student becomes a sports-wise boy with a knowledge of many sports. I feel that the physical education facilities at Gould are the best that can be found anywhere.

Semi-annual strength tests show where a boy's weaknesses are. With these reports "Joe" helps any interested boy become physically correct.

"Joe" often mentions that the boys around Gould are trustworthy. For this reason the apparatus is left out for our use. I know each boy feels a certain pride in this, and with "Joe's" guidance, the boys' Physical Education is just tops.

Alumni - Class of 1959

The graduates of the class of 1959 are found scattered around our country.

Those who simply couldn't desert this wonderful state of Maine include: Mary Jasper and Jim Linnell, who are studying at Bates. The University of Maine has claimed eight of our graduates. They are Kirk Newsom, Del Webster, Steve Karpowich, Robert Felt, Timmy Carter, Betsy Chapman, Nancy Buckminster, and Greg Shapiro.

Marji Morton and Barbara Sprague are at Farmington State Teachers' College.

In nurses' training we have Eleanor Lord and Lucy Leighton, who are at Central Maine General Hospital in Lewiston. D. J. Bigos is at the University of Connecticut, School of Nursing, Storrs, Conn. Gloria Burris is at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

Gary Aluisy and Whitney Austin are at Maine Maritime Academy, in Castine.

Pat Allen is at Husson College in Bangor, while Nancy Davis is at Golden School of Beauty Culture in Portland.

Several of our graduates have joined the Armed Forces. Victor Newton and Willard Farwell have just completed their six months basic training in the Reserves. Roy Brown is married and also is in the Navy.

Bob Weston, Eric Wight, and O'Neil Mills are at Nichols Jr. College in Dudley, Massachusetts.

Other former "Gouldites" in Massachusetts are: Ruth Stevens, Sara Stowell, Lee Grover, and Evelyn Winslow, who are at Burdett, in Boston. Ann Carter and Ruth Willard are at Sargent College in Boston. Jane Greig is at the Forsythe School of Dental Hygiene in Medford. Sue Dennison is at Lasalle Jr. in Auburn-dale. Mark Freeman is at Northeastern University, in Boston.

Sally Webber is at Chamberlain School of Retailing in Boston.

Judy Watson is at Springfield College in Springfield, Massachusetts.

Paul Kimball, Robert Blake, John Bergeson, and Al Sumner are at Maine Vocational Technical Institute, in South Portland.

Many of last years' graduates are now wearing little gold bands on their left hands. These include: Margaret Tyler, Pat Philbrook, Grace Currier, Diane Pease, Meredith Bennett, Jo-Ann Roderick, and Alberta Rugg.

The State of Connecticut has claimed several of our recent alumni. John Vinton and Linwood Small are attending Wesleyan University, in Middletown. Norm Gardner and Newt Ferris are at Mitchell College in New London; Steve Yeaton is at Trinity College in Hartford.

Jewel Bean is at Hickock in Boston, while Sue Badgley is at Mt. Ina in Newton.

Sue Appleton, Deborah and Judith Doliver, and Joyce Gilman are all at the University of New Hampshire, in Durham.

Many of our recent alumni are found working in and around Bethel. These include: Julie Reynolds, Pete Young, Irene Allen, Pete Baker, Nina Haines, Norma Korhonen, Harriet Kneeland, and Carolyn Mills.

John Cole is at the University of Florida, in Gainesville, while Phyllis Coolidge is working in Boca, Florida.

Jack Greig is working in Lewiston, and Wanda Kimball is working in Washington, D.C.

Gail Gorab is attending school in Chickasha, Oklahoma, and Janice Hague is at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio.

Pat Jackson has joined the WAC and is now stationed in Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Larry Cummings is at Lowery Air Force Base in Colorado.

Sandra Cole is working at the YWCA in Portland.

Pat Probst is at Hood College in Frederick, Maryland.

Peggy DeLand is at Davis and Elkins in West Virginia.

The sunny state of Vermont, which has more cows than people, has now added a few more people to its growing population. Joan Fox is at Greene Mt. College in Paultney; Joan Smith is at Vermont Jr.

College in Montpelier; Royden Ward is at Norwich University in Northfield, Vermont.

Marion Taylor is working in Gardiner, while Laurel MacPherson is at Tyler Jr. College in Tyler, Texas.

Fred Dallinger is taking a Post Graduate Course at Maine Central Institute in Pittsfield.
